

Workplace Relations Assist

Helping employers comply with changes to Fair Work Laws

Workplace relations legislative changes

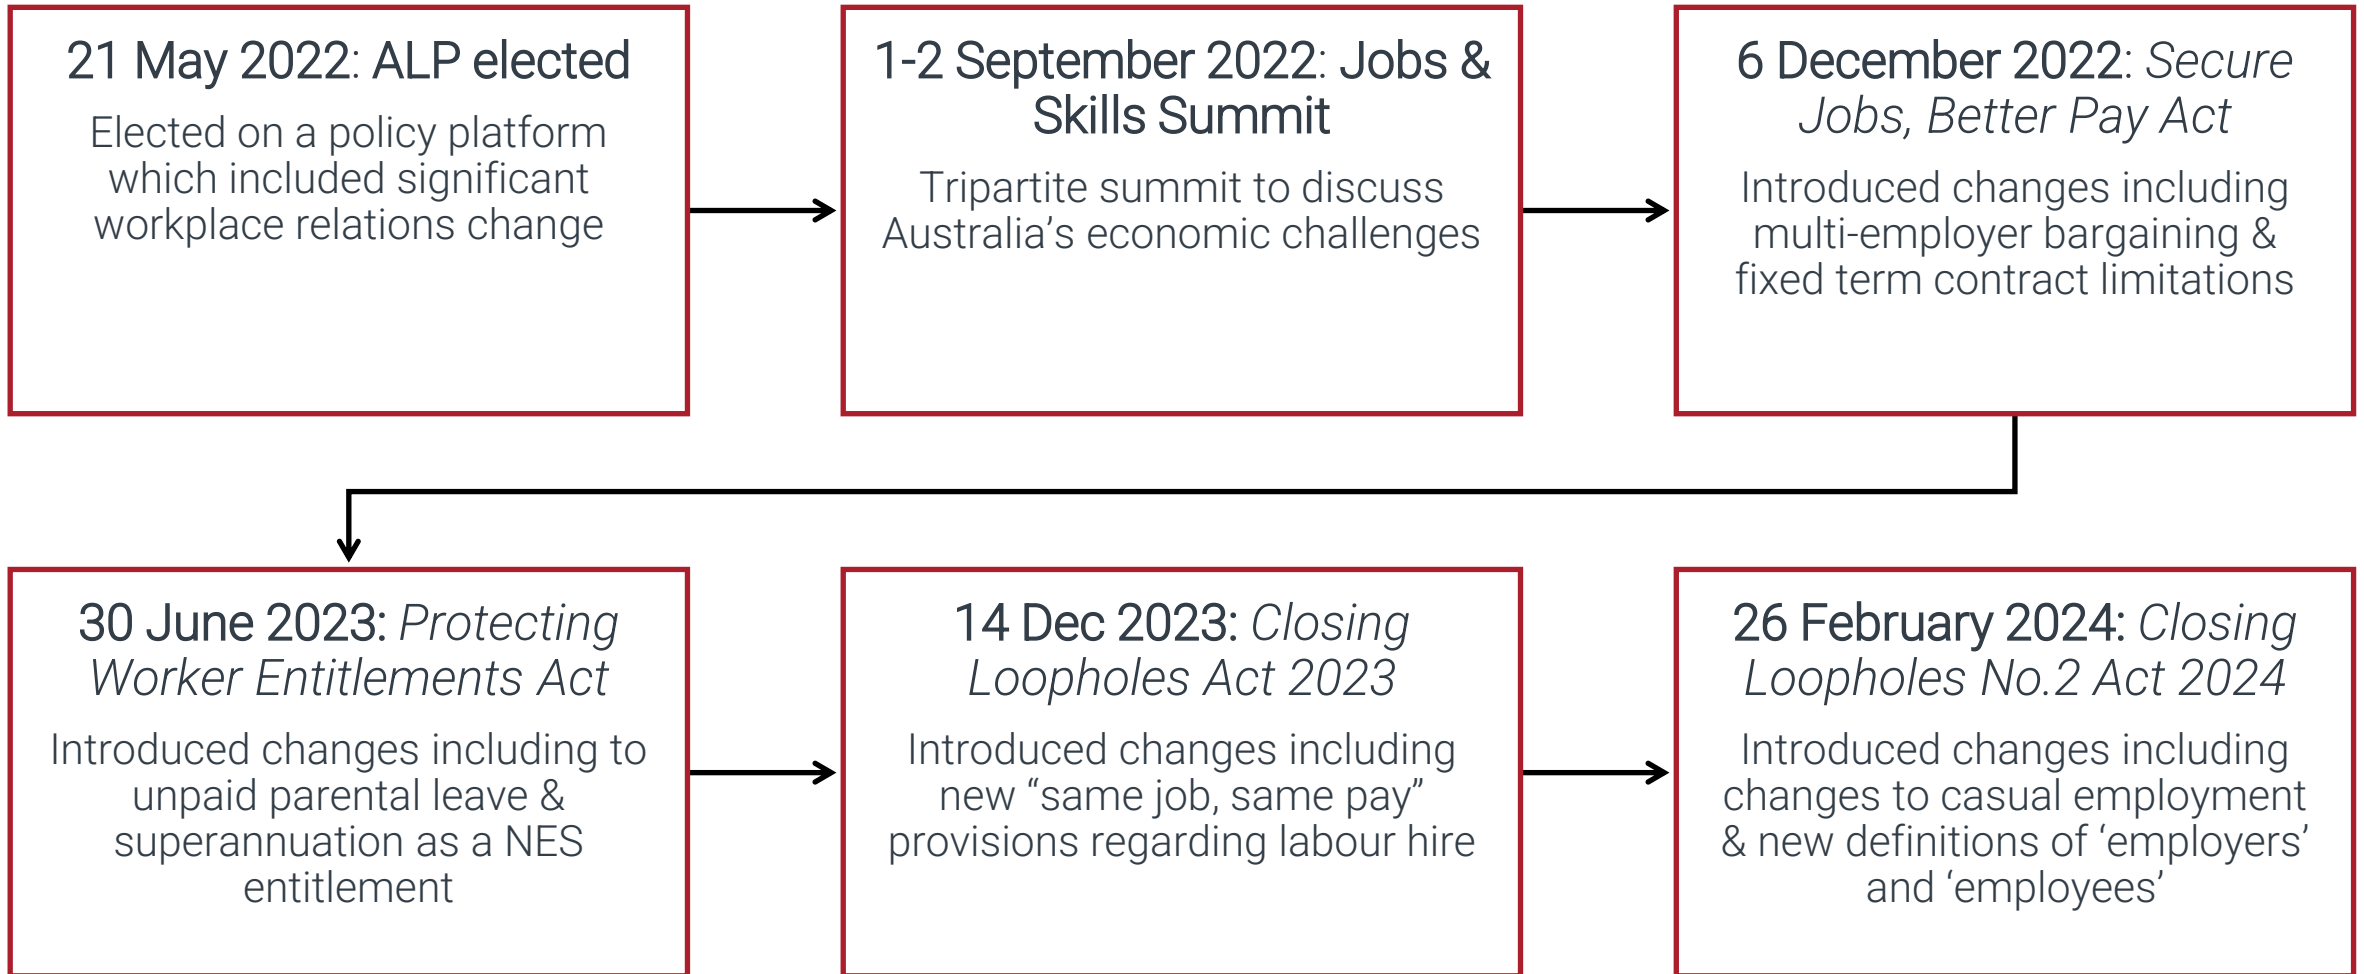

Stewart Rinkevich

Ai Group Workplace Lawyers

This meeting has been funded by the Australian Government Department of Employment and Workplace Relations through the Productivity, Education and Training Fund grant program

Workplace relations regulation: the changing landscape

The big changes

Limits on fixed term contracts (duration & number of potential renewals)

New definition of who is an employee and changes to sham contracting provisions

New definition of a casual employee & changes to casual conversion rights

New right for employees to disconnect from work

New procedural requirements about responding to flexible working requests

New “same job, same pay” rules impacting on labour hire arrangements

Respect@Work and the positive duty to avoid sexual harassment, discrimination etc

For further information about the legislative changes

For recent changes to the Fair Work Act:

- Fair Work Commission - <https://www.fwc.gov.au/about-us/new-laws>
- Fair Work Ombudsman - <https://www.fairwork.gov.au/about-us/workplace-laws/legislation-changes>

For information regarding Respect@Work:

- Australian Human Rights Commission - <https://humanrights.gov.au/our-work/sex-discrimination/positive-duty-sex-discrimination-act>
- Respect@Work - <https://www.respectatwork.gov.au/>

For Ai Group members:

- Recent changes to the Fair Work Act - <https://www.aigroup.com.au/resourcecentre/fair-work-legislation-changes/>
- Respect@Work - <https://www.aigroup.com.au/resourcecentre/hr/respect-at-work/templates-tools/toolkit--complying-with-the-positive-duty-under-the-sex-discrimination-act/>

For further information about the Australian Industry Group

Australian Industry Group is a peak national employer association for Australian industry, linking members to the insights, services and expertise you need to be successful

Key benefits include:

- Unlimited calls to Ai Group's Workplace Advice Line
- Unlimited logins to HR and Health & Safety resource centres
 - includes hundreds of articles, templates and resources
- Award, compliance & legislative updates
 - includes national Workers' Compensation & Safety Updates
- Networking, webinars and podcasts
- Member rates across Ai Group Workplace Lawyers, HR & WHS Consulting, Training, Trade & Export Documents and more

Contact us for further information at membership.enquiry@aigroup.com.au

Thank you!

Stewart Rinkevich
stewart.rinkevich@aigroup.com.au